FARMERS WILL REVIEW MOST DIFFICULT YEAR

Adams County farmers, who will meet Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock at The Biglerville Grade School cafeteria for the annual meeting of their Agricultural Extension Association, experienced "one of the most difficult years since the late 30s" during 1957 according to the annual report of the county agents prepared for the annual meeting and for state and national extension headquarters.

"The rough caused serious crop losses in the southern half of the county," County Agent Frank S. Zettie, Associate County Agent Fred H. Attinger and Assistant County Agent John D. Naugle reported in the introduction to their annual report. "On many farms, corn, hay and pasture crops were less than half a normal crop. Many farmers had used a great deal of their winter hay reserves by fall.

"Apple and cherry prices, in many cases, were below cost of production. Most production costs continued to rise. However, purchased feed became more favorable than the prior year.

Low Income Is Problem
"Labor has been more available, however at higher cost in most cases. Egg prices, peach prices and swine prices were improved over last year, but marketing costs have continued to increase and most of this increase has been borne by the farmer."

The county agents noted: "The small and the inefficient farmers are finding it extremely difficult to compete in agriculture. Better management and greater efficiency are essential for future success."

"Low farm income is still the major problem with farm families of Adams County," the report held.

Need Marketing Program

Observing that "in the coming years, the extension service must assist in developing a stronger marketing program for agricultural products," the county agents also held that the problem of better marketing "is no easy matter. It is impossible to compare the marketing of any other important product in our modern day economy to that of marketing agricultural produce. What would the situation with the automobile industry be if there were five million manufacturers instead of six, if the weather could dictate the rate of production and if the individual manufacturer had no way of establishing the price of his automobile? The above problems confront all farmers and it is with these basic problems that extension service must develop an effective marketing program."

The report also held that "sound soil management and grassland farming need to be stressed and the greater use of sound farm management practices and better record keeping are equally important."

LIONS HONOR E. H. NEWMAN

E. H. Newman was presented with a special award for having, over a period of years, secured 25 new members by the Fairfield Lions Club at its meeting Tuesday evening at the Fairfield Lutheran parish house.

Newman was also presented with an award for securing new members in October, along with Robert Willis and William Shultz, who received similar awards for their success in obtaining members during that month.

Guy Seifert was inducted as a new member with the induction ceremony performed by the district governor, Sydney Bernstein, Jacobus.

District Governor Bernstein was the principal speaker at the meeting, basing his talk on "What Will Your Club Be 25 Years From Now?" in which he noted that "much that will happen a quarter century from now will depend upon the beginnings started by your activities now."

Twenty members attended the meeting at which President Charles Lott presided. The Ladies of Zion served a ham dinner. Thirteen guests were also present. Guests, in addition to the district governor, included District Deputy Governor William Lau, Spring Grove; Hoyt Bohnert, Jacobus, and ten members of the Conewago-McSherrytown Lions Club.

BELIEF IN GOD IS REQUIRED, SPEAKER SAYS

A belief in God is a prerequisite of prayer, the Rev. William E. Fenstermaker, pastor of the Methodist Church, told an audience of 200 Tuesday evening at the Presbyterian Church in the third of the series of union services being held here in observance of the Universal Week of Prayer.

"So many seem to be praying to some one who is not present," the speaker said. "We must have the assurance that there is a God who hears and is concerned when we speak to Him. We can't really pray without that assurance."

The Rev. Mr. Fenstermaker spoke on the text: "Lord, Teach Us To Pray," taken from Luke 11:1.

Rev. Bishop This Evening

This evening at 7:30 o'clock in the same church, the Rev. John S. Bishop, assistant pastor at St. James Lutheran Church, will deliver the sermon and the Rev. Harry L. Fehl Jr., pastor of the Memorial EUB Church, will be in charge of the service.

Tuesday evening's service was conducted by the Rev. Dr. Howard S. Fox, pastor of Trinity United Church of Christ. Attorney John A. MacPhail, a member of that church, read the scripture and offered prayer. Each evening laymen from the church of the minister in charge of the services have taken part in the service.

"Prayer is difficult to define," the preacher said Tuesday evening. "It has been called a wish turned heavenward, cooperation with God and a handclasp with God. But to define prayer is not enough and we cry out as did the disciples: 'Lord, teach us to pray.'"

Earnest, Unselfish
The importance of "believing in what we pray for" was stressed by the speaker. He said: "So many people pray and don't believe anything will happen" and then cited the case of the early praying Christians who would not believe that Peter had been released from prison (Continued on Page 2)

"Skip," fourteen-year-old boy shepherd and Collie dog, blind in one eye and missing for two days, has been reunited with his master. And it all came about through the combined efforts of The Gettysburg Times, radio station WGET and a number of local residents.

"Skip" came to Gettysburg Sunday with his master from Ithaca, N. Y. The next day, Monday, he was missing and his master, Charles Preston, was heart-broken over the loss of his pet. He called and whistled and searched in vain. Finally an appeal was made Tuesday to The Times and WGET.

The big press in The Times press room had hardly stopped rolling out Tuesday afternoon's edition when the telephone at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Teeter, Old Mill Rd., starting ringing.

One after another local residents reported seeing the missing dog. He was roaming the town and as he moved about his appearance was reported to the Teeters, where Preston is employed. One call was received from a Times' reader in Emmitsburg.

Shortly after 5:30 o'clock "Skip" came home. He was first seen bounding across the open field in front of the Teeter residence, then across the road and finally into the arms of his master.

There was a real reunion Tuesday evening.

Gouker, Hanover, attended along with Carmen Reid, president of the Newville chapter; William Bittinger, Shippensburg, regional vice president, and nine other members of the Newville Jaycees.

The "pass the barrel" program is designed as a visitation for exchanging ideas, at which time the group discussed current projects of the chapters. State President Gouker listed some of the aims and accomplishments of Jaycees.

The local chapter discussed plans for the annual observance of Bosses' Night to take place on Monday, January 20, when Pennsylvania State Senator Douglas H. Elliott will be the guest speaker. Senator Elliott is vice president of Wilson College, Chambersburg. Arrangements for the event are in charge of Richard D. Thomas, president, and Clyde W. Crouse, vice president. The place for holding the affair will be announced.

President Thomas, who presided, named Robert V. Weaver and William R. Keefer as co-chairmen to serve on general arrangements for the annual summer music festival sponsored by the Jaycees. L. Robert Snyder reported on the progress of plans for the annual February variety show. A report on the success of the Christmas lighting and decorating contest in the community, sponsored by the Jaycees, was heard from Paul F. Bolter Jr. The chapter conducted a sale of fruit cakes in November and December and John F. Feeser Jr. reported on the event.

Today's Talk

BANISH ALL FEARS

Nothing tears down like fear does. Once it gets into the mind it sends out assistants, and before we know it we have surrendered to it! It's the great destroyer. No one accomplishes anything worth while if he fears he is going to fail. Courage begets courage. If you have a purpose in your mind and heart, fear can only knock at the door.

Discouragements are natural to us all. All great dreamers have them, but they rise above them. They triumph as the mythological Pericles did. It was said that he always conquered. All history has bequeathed this final triumph to us. It is our heritage. If we cling to it we can have no fears. We can keep going forward, dispelling all doubts.

Be a quality human being. Face all problems without fear — win, lose or draw. There is always something better ahead. With your fears all gone, you have a clear and wide path ahead and you will many times over have the energy you wish. We all need faith in whatever we do. It will guide us as faithfully as the mariner is guided by the stars.

We cannot afford to have fears hiding about us, ready to snare us. No one ever climbed high with a horde of fears dogging his heels. Fears delight in minus signs! Look forward and go forward. No unhappy situation in life is ever as bad as it seems. Take "the road least traveled" and you will make progress that is always encouraging, and most void of fears. Think of the birds out of your winter window. The only fears they have are the natural protective fears. That is all we should have. Banish all fears. Learn of the happiness behind simple and sincere trust in our Heavenly Father.

A LULLABY

The dream ship is ready, the sea is like gold

And the fairy prince waits in command;

There's a cargo of wonderful dreams in the hold,

For the baby that seeks Slumberland.

There are fairies in pink and good fairies in white

A watch over the baby to keep.

Now the silver sails fill with the breeze of the night,

All aboard, for the Sweet Port of Sleep.

Softly, so softly, the ship slips away,

With its silver sails catching the breeze;

The stars in the skies seem to twinkle and say:

"Our watch we will keep o'er the seas.

And never a tempest shall happen this night,

But peace shall slip down on the deep.

Safe and sound shall return, with the coming of light,

The babe from the Sweet Port of Sleep."

STEAL $5,750 FROM MARKET

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Police today are searching for two bandits who held up the manager of a West Philadelphia supermarket and escaped in a stolen auto with $5,750.

The robbery victim was Albert Christine, 50, manager of an A. & P. market.

Christine had just started to count the money yesterday along with his bookkeeper, Mrs. Minnie McBride, when the two thugs approached the cubicle in the store office.

The first bandit, aiming a gun at Christine, said, "If you want to see tomorrow, don't move." Then the pair slid the cash into a paper bag, spurning $800 in change.

About 20 customers were in the store at the time. It was not until the victims started shouting as the thugs fled that they became aware of the holdup.

The holdup was made minutes after an armored car service had delivered the money.

The stolen car was found parked in a church driveway. It was reportedly stolen from John Hoedel, 30, of Levittown.

Jim Pace, Michigan halfback, led the Big Ten in scoring during 1957 with nine touchdowns for 54 points. Ohio's Don Clark was second with 48 points.

Tom Fletcher of Purdue led the Bollermakers in scoring last season with 31 points. The halfback made 16 out of 19 placements, kicked a field goal and scored two touchdowns.

Ben-Gurion continued as defense minister as well as premier and Mrs. Golda Meir remained as foreign minister.

LINK ANASTASIA DEATH TO CUBAN GAMBLING; SEEK 2 FOR QUESTIONS

NEW YORK (AP) — Linking the assassination of racketeer Albert Anastasia to Cuban gambling, Manhattan Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan has ordered a nationwide search for two gamblers wanted for questioning in the slaying.

The alarm was flashed last night. The men are wanted for questioning on "negotiations concerning a gambling casino concession in Havana, Cuba," Hoa said.

He emphasized that the two are not being sought as the actual killers. Anastasia was shot to death Oct. 25 by two men as he sat in a barber chair at the Park Sheraton Hotel in Manhattan.

Identify Pair

In a hastily called news conference, Hogan identified the hunted duo as Santos Trafficanti, alias Louis Santos, 43, Tampa, Fla., and Joseph Silesi, alias Joe Rivers, 61, Manhattan.

Trafficanti, who was a delegate to the Nov. 14 Apalachin, N. Y., underworld convention, told state police when the delegates were rounded up that he operated the gambling casino at the Sans Souci, a Havana night club, according to Hogan. All 60 men attending the Apalachin meeting subsequently were released by state police.

Seek More Facts

Silesi was reputed to be extensively active in gambling circles. Only a few days before five bullets snuffed out Anastasia's life, Hogan said, certain unidentified Havana residents conferred here with Anastasia about the casino concession, Hogan said.

Hogan said he wants to put the two gamblers before a grand jury that has been investigating Anastasia's murder. "We believe that their testimony may shed light on the motivation for the assassination," Hogan said.

CLAIMS YOUTH EATS TOO MANY SODAS, SNACKS

By BOB HOLTON

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania's chief nutritionist says teenagers today are eating themselves right out of their clothes.

And Mrs. Anna DePlanter Bowes blames most of it on "too many sodas and snacks" which she claims many youngsters eat to ease psychological growing pains.

"The teen-agers in Pennsylvania and elsewhere in the nation for the last few years have been eating themselves into obesity — or just plain fatness and states of overweight," Mrs. Bowes said.

"Many of the children and teen-agers and even adults overeat or oversnack because of some mental disturbance," she explained, adding:

"Feeling Of Insecurity"

"In teen-agers and younger children, the overeating can many times be traced to a feeling of insecurity and lack of family love and affection."

To make her theory just about as current as possible, Mrs. Bowes turned to Russia's recent launching of Sputnik, the first earth satellite.

"I wouldn't be afraid to say that many people today are on their way to obesity just because of the insecurity they might feel at Russia having beaten us to the punch with Sputnik," she ventured.

"People, from the age of four to the aged, often times use overeating to relieve frustration caused by mental strains, worry and feelings of insecurity," she explained.

Must Be Happier

"People just have to be happier or stop using food as a solace for their feelings of unhappiness," she urged. "If they keep on eating too much, many of them will eventually suffer from heart disease, diabetes and even fallen arches as a partial or direct result."

BEN-GURION IS BACK IN OFFICE

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (AP) — One week after his Israeli government resigned because of a breach of Cabinet secrecy, Premier David Ben-Gurion and the same five political parties were back in office today.

The new government won a confidence vote from Parliament last night 75-33 after Ben-Gurion expressed certainty that secrecy would not be broken again. The Premier said the Achduth Avodah (Labor Union) party leaked plans to send a special mission to West Germany to seek arms.

All five parties hold the same number of ministerial posts as in the old Cabinet. They are Ben-Gurion's Mafal (Socialist Labor) nine, two each for Achduth Avodah, Mizrachi (Religious Orthodox) and Mapam (United Workers) and one Progressive.

Ben-Gurion continued as defense minister as well as premier and Mrs. Golda Meir remained as foreign minister.

Asked what he would do if party leaders reached an impasse and drafted him to run, Lawrence replied:

"It wouldn't do them any good."

Bloom Shrugs Off Proposal To Run General For Senator

By LEONARD A. UNGER

HARRISBURG (AP) — George I. Bloom, Republican state chairman, today shrugged off a proposal that Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, a one-time Pennsylvanian, run for the Republican nomination for U. S. Senator.

"Gen. Gavin is an outstanding general, but until he actually becomes available, I don't see any point in discussing whether he should be a candidate for senator," he told a newsmen.

Bloom was asked about a request to Gavin made by Sen. George N. Wade (R-Cumberland) in a letter to the 50-year-old, three-star general who spent his boyhood in Mount Carmel.

Wade told Gavin that Pennsylvania voters would support a senatorial boom for the general "beyond party affiliation."

Won't Buck Party

In another development, John M. Walker, Allegheny County Commissioner, said he would not buck the organization in his quest for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

"If I'm not enthusiastically and overwhelmingly supported and received by the Republican organization, I'm not going to the post May 20," said the former state senator.

Walker made one reservation. He said he would remain in the race if the only other candidate appeared to be Harold Stassen, President Eisenhower's disarmament advisor. "Why elect a Minnesotan as governor of Pennsylvania?" he asked.

He said Republicans have lost "a great deal of the confidence" of the voters of Pennsylvania and said Democratic gains in the 1957 municipal elections showed that to be true.

Can't Afford Fight

"The Republican party can't undergo the luxury of a primary fight," Walker said in a news conference.

Walker met with Bloom later yesterday but both said no commitments were made.

Bloom, on the Gavin development, questioned whether the general was qualified to run for the U. S. Senate from Pennsylvania since he left the state at 17 to enter the army.

The State Elections Bureau said the only requirements for a U. S. Senator are that he be 30 years of age, a U. S. citizen for nine years and an inhabitant of the state at the time he is elected.

There was no reaction from Gavin.

Center Of Controversy

Gavin is in the center of raging controversy on his criticism of defense department policies.

On the Democratic side, Mayor David Lawrence of Pittsburgh, a powerful figure in party circles, once again ruled himself out as a possible gubernatorial candidate, even if drafted.

Other Development

Asked what he would do if party leaders reached an impasse and drafted him to run, Lawrence replied:

"It wouldn't do them any good."

James MARLOW Reports

The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP)—In his State of the Union message to Congress Thursday, President Eisenhower will outline the steps he thinks necessary to stay abreast of the Russians—if it is not already too late—or to get ahead of them.

The very steps he suggests will make his listeners, in and out of Congress, wonder: Why didn't he do this before? Why this late date? For instance, he will ask for a big money increase for defense, particularly for missiles.

This country was working on missiles and knew the Russians were. Buy the administration didn't develop a sense of urgency until the Russians shocked the nation with the evidence of their progress in missiles and Sputniks.

Not Only Warnings

But these Russian blows to American complacency—with a new one added in a report a Russian had been fired 185 miles into space and returned—were not the only warnings to the administration that speed is needed.

In the past two months two reports by distinguished citizens—one still concealed by the administration and the other made public over the weekend—called for great effort to match or surpass Russia.

The still-concealed report was put together by a group—businessmen, scientists and military men—under the chairmanship of H. Rowan Gaither Jr., appointed by Eisenhower to look into our defense needs.

Against This Background

Bits of this one have leaked out, indicating the Gaither group has painted a frightening picture of the future unless this country wakes up and employs greater energy and imagination than it has used so far.

The other report—made by a similar but different group of men working independently of the government under the sponsorship of the Rockefeller Brothers Fund, Inc.—was released to the public Sunday.

It said that unless this country acts fast in a number of ways, at home and abroad, military superiority and the world balance of power will shift to Russia.

It is against this background—and to a nervous Congress and with a bewildered public listening—that Eisenhower will deliver his State of the Union message.

Join Move To Stop Theft Of Hub Caps

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State police have agreed to join in a statewide program to stop theft of automobile hub caps.

State Police Commissioner Earl J. Henry said that a stenciling service will be provided free by some 500 gas stations across the state. They will stencil the hub caps with the owners license number.

Sam Siegle, executive director of the Pennsylvania Chiefs of Police Assn., said some $2,500 worth of hub caps are stolen each week in the state.

At present hub caps cannot be positively identified as having been taken from any specific car. Henry said sets of hub caps for some cars cost as much as $100.

42ND PA. FARM SHOW TO OPEN ON NEXT MONDAY

Packed with new events and thrills, the 42nd Pennsylvania Farm Show opens its doors free to the public next Monday morning. More than 100 separate events, demonstration and contests will be provided in the 14-acre Farm Show building in Harrisburg before the massive agricultural exposition comes to a close at 6 p.m. the following Friday.

Jammed with "consumer appeal," the 1958 show will stress advancement of Pennsylvania agriculture under the theme "Better Farming For Better Service To Consumers."

"We anticipate the greatest display of quality farm and farm home products in the history of the Farm Show," State Agricultural Secretary William L. Henning predicted. "It will have appeal for people of all ages from both rural and city areas. There is no show like it in the country."

Governor Opens Show

While the exposition doors open at 8 a.m. on Monday, formal opening will be by Governor George M. Leader on Monday evening when mounted members of the Pennsylvania State Police give their annual demonstration of skills in horsemanship before a standing room crowd of 10,000 in the Farm Show Arena.

Secretary Henning, who is also chairman of the Farm Show Commission, sponsors of the event, points to the fact that the number of farmers is shrinking each year while the number of consumers keeps growing. That is why the Farm Show this year will feature newest developments in machinery and methods designed for efficiency in farming and advancement in quality of consumer products.

Among the new features this year will be a State Championship folk dance festival and contest in which 39 sets of eight dancers will compete in the farm show arena on

FARM CALENDAR

Poultry Outlook — The National and Pennsylvania laying flock is expected to be 5 to 6 per cent smaller this month than a year ago. Fewer layers mean higher prices in the first half of 1958, comments Kermit Birth, Penn State extension agricultural economist. Feed costs are expected to be lower.

Turkey Production — Lowest prices in 15 years for the record turkey crop of 1957 are expected to result in reduced numbers next year. Kermit Birth, Penn State extension agricultural economist, sees large feed supplies and lower prices as factors encouraging heavy production in the new year.

Larger Tree Supply — Christmas trees, an important Pennsylvania product, will be in larger supply in 1958 with improved quality bringing prices at 1957 levels, believes Alvi Voigt, Penn State extension market-inf specialist. Burdensome supplies are expected about four years.

Hazards For Birds — Cold rains, wet snow, and sleet are the more difficult climatic conditions for turkeys, according to Harry Kauffman, Penn State extension poultry specialist. Wet feathers cannot keep the turkeys' bodies warm.

Milk Production — Many conditions affect a dairy cow's lactation record. Lawrence Specht, Penn State extension dairy specialist, says among these are age of the cow, number of times milked each day, and total number of days milked.

Avoid Waste — Leaving game in the field after it is killed is a needless waste of good food, reminds Robert Wingard, Penn State extension wildlife management specialist.

Approximately 100 applicants for commercial exhibit space at the 1958 Pennsylvania Farm Show had to be turned away due to lack of accommodations.

For protection of the health of nearly 2,000 head of livestock at next week's Pennsylvania Farm Show the Department of Agriculture has arranged for veterinary service 24 hours a day.

Including 4-H Club and vocational agriculture exhibits, the Farm Show at Harrisburg will show 670 dairy cattle, 364 beef cattle, 369 sheep, 360 swine and 97 horses. Poultry exhibits will have nearly 4,000 birds.

The Pennsylvania Farm Show started in January 1917 and has been held annually except for the years 1943-46 when the U. S. War Department used the building. Farm show meetings were held in those years in downtown Harrisburg.

Farm people from each of Pennsylvania's 67 counties had exhibits at the 1957 State Farm Show. Officials expect similar response at the 1958 show which opens in Harrisburg next Monday.

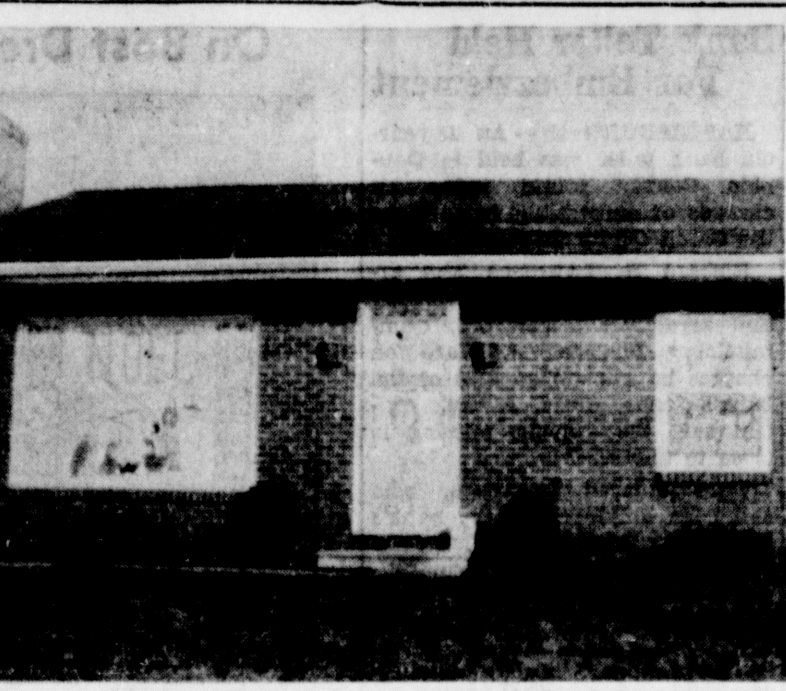

The actual hatching of baby chickens, ducklings and turkey poults will be seen in a special clear plastic dome incubator in the front of the main Farm Show Building during the 42nd show in Harrisburg.

Two concerts will be given by the Pennsylvania Future Farmers of America Band during next week's Farm Show in Harrisburg. They will play Tuesday night in the Farm Show Arena prior to the first annual square dance festival and again Wednesday afternoon at the awards meeting of the State FFA.

The Pennsylvania Flower Growers, in cooperation with the Farm Show Commission, will provide scores of colorful potted plants to brighten up the 1958 Farm Show in Harrisburg. Bunting and other decorations this year are the most extensive and colorful ever seen at a Farm Show.

One of the most popular spots at the State Farm Show in Harrisburg will be the Pennsylvania Farm Foods center. Offerings include whole milk, milk shakes and ice cream products by the Pennsylvania Dairyman's Association; baked potatoes, french fries and donuts by the Potato Growers Cooperative; turkey-burgers, turkey barbecues, turkey white meat sandwiches, chicken corn soup, pickled eggs and egg nog by the State Poultry Federation; single apples, bagged apples and apple juice by the State Horticultural Association; honey ice cream, strained and comb honey and honey candy by the State Beekeepers Association.

BIG JUMP IN APPLE YIELD SEEN POSSIBLE

A possible increase in apple production in Adams County by "25 per cent within the next eight to ten years," is forecast by County Agent Frank S. Zettie in his annual report to Pennsylvania State University's Extension office.

"With a great proportion of Adams County orchards in young trees under 15 years of age," he wrote, "the annual production of apples could very easily increase by 25 per cent in the next eight to ten years."

Zettie's report held that the fruit growers, with the expected increase in production, will need to seek an expanded fresh fruit market.

"During the last 20 years," he wrote, "the fruit grower has relied mainly on the processor as a market for his apples."

Discusses Problems
"During the war years and immediately following, this was a very excellent market; however in recent years there have been times when the processor prices have only been equal or even under the cost of production. That situation existed in 1957."

"We are convinced that more apples from Adams County need to go into the fresh fruit channels if the fruit industry is to remain in a stable position," Zettie reported. He added that "quality production has been stressed in the extension program. Improved spray schedules have been developed by extension

NEW SOLON TAKES OATH

WASHINGTON — One new Pennsylvania congressman took the oath of office Monday, reducing the number of vacancies in the Keystone State delegation to two.

The state's apportionment is 30 House members.

Ready to be sworn in was Rep. John A. LaFore Jr., Republican. He was elected on Nov. 5 to succeed former Rep. Samuel K. McConnell Jr., in Pennsylvania's 13th District, comprising Montgomery County.

McConnell, a veteran congressman and a proponent of federal aid to school construction, retired Sept. 1 to head the National Cerebral Palsy Assn.

LaFore is a Philadelphia auto dealer who lives in suburban Havertown and has served four terms in the State House of Representatives. He is expected to take a stand in Congress opposed to his predecessor, McConnell, on federal aid to education.

BANK OFFICIAL KILLS RICH AUNT AND SUICIDES

CARBONDALE, Pa. (AP) — Dist. Atty. Carlton O. Malley today sought a motive in the shooting of a wealthy, elderly woman by her nephew who then took his own life.

The double shooting on Monday in the woman's home has been officially described as a murder-suicide by Dr. Charles Speicher, deputy coroner of Lackawanna County.

Mrs. Mary A. Manville, 91, was shot as she sat in a wheelchair in her home by her nephew, Robert B. Jadwin, 35, vice president and cashier of the First National Bank of Carbondale.

Both Die Shortly
Dr. Speicher said the woman had five bullets in her body and that Jadwin apparently shot himself three times in the chest and then once in the brain. The woman died shortly after admission to Carbondale General Hospital. Jadwin was dead on arrival at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Investigation thus far reveals: Jadwin, who had been ill for several years, left the bank after lunch. He then went to the home

Bank Teller Held For Embezzlement

HARRISBURG (AP) — An 18-year-old bank teller was held in Dauphin County prison today on charges of embezzling funds from the Camp Curtin Trust Co. here.

Richard R. Lawrence was arrested by FBI agents on Monday and arraigned before U.S. Commissioner Charles J. Ware on charges he misappropriated $130 of the bank's funds. A bank official said the amount missing is close to $1,000.

Ware ordered Lawrence, who had been employed at the bank's West Penn Branch since last June as an apprentice teller, committed to the county prison in default of $1,000 bail.

4 KILLED WHEN NAVY PLANE IS FORCED DOWN

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — A Navy patrol plane, struggling for a landing with one of its two engines dead, crashed into a thickly settled seashore resort area on Monday. Four of the 12 crewman were killed.

The Mercator aircraft careened into a group of cottages, demolishing three and damaging three others. The plane and one of the houses burned.

Injured in the crash were three occupants of houses struck by the plane as it skidded into the ocean-front settlement at nearby Ocean View.

Cmdr. Clyde Curley, 41, pilot of the plane, told Navy officials his aircraft had entered its pattern for a landing at the Norfolk Naval Air Station when its port propeller engine suddenly lost power.

He said when he was unable to start his two jet engines, he turned toward the water to avoid crashing into a populated area. The plane, however, came down just short of the bay, plowing into two automobiles and striking five houses before slamming headlong into the sixth.

The patrol plane, attached to a squadron based at Port Lyautey, French Morocco, was on a flight from Bermuda to Norfolk.

Wrap bacon strips around canned water chestnuts (the small ones) and bake in a hot oven until the bacon is crisp and brown. Place the tidbits on a rack so the fat can drip down during the baking. Serve with the sauce from mango chutney.

of his aunt, who was planning a bridge party for later in the day.

Friend Hears Shots
With her at the time was Mrs. James McWilliams, a friend who arrived early for the party. When Jadwin entered, he and his aunt went into an adjoining sitting room.

Seconds later, Mrs. McWilliams and the Manville housekeeper, Mrs. Anna Hoidich, heard a number of shots.

The president of the bank, Alfred P. Wells, said he received a call from Jadwin shortly after the vice president left the bank. Speaking without emotion, Jadwin said: "Hello, Al, I've just killed Aunt May and now I'm going to kill myself."

Wells said he rushed to the Manville home but the shooting had already occurred.

The housekeeper said Jadwin made a phone call before he and his aunt went into the room.

Wells said that Jadwin's behavior was normal at the bank earlier in the day.

Used Bank Gun
Investigators said the .39 revolver used in the shooting belonged to the bank.

Mrs. Manville, who was the largest individual stockholder in the bank, is survived by a niece, Mrs. Walter Smith of Greenwich, Conn., and a nephew, Keith Manville, of Allentown.

Jadwin leaves his widow, the former Lillian Varrato; a daughter, Lillian; and a son, Robert, all of Carbondale.

LEMOYNE MAY BALK BLUE LAWS

HARRISBURG (AP) — A change in command of the borough government of nearby Lemoyne revived a possibility today that an ice skating rink may resume operations on Sunday.

The owner, Charles Rupp, said he expected to confer on the question with the new burgess, Herbert Preble, whose views on Sunday operation of the rink differ from those of his predecessor, Newton Landis.

Rupp, a week ago, was fined $10, for breach of the peace for Sunday operation. The charge was made at the direction of Landis, who notified Rupp at the time he would be charged with violation of the Sunday blue laws should he continue operations on the Sabbath.

But Landis went out of office on Monday and Preble took over as burgess.

"The blue law (prohibiting non-essential work on Sunday) is unenforceable," Preble said after his inauguration. "It is antiquated. If we prosecute Rupp, then we must do the same against others doing business. The situation could get ridiculous."

"Until someone can show me to my satisfaction that the blue law should be applied in Rupp's case, then I do not know how I can press action against him. As for the breach of peace charge filed against him Dec. 28, I say he was charged wrongly. I would not file such a charge against him under the circumstances."

"Bath" In Toilet Fatal To Infant

KEARNY, N.J. (AP) — A 6-week-old baby boy died on Monday shortly after his mother pulled him from a toilet where his 4-year-old sister had placed him for a "bath."

Mrs. Marlene Case managed to revive her son Gerald with artificial respiration and had him rushed to West Hudson Hospital. The infant died there some two hours later.

Mrs. Case told police she awoke from an afternoon nap to find the child in the bathroom with his sister Diane.

CHESSMAN HAS JUDGE ON STAND IN RARE ACTION

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Convict-author Caryl Chessman's long fight to evade the gas chamber has produced the rare courtroom spectacle of a condemned man cross-examining the judge who sentenced him to die.

In the unfamiliar role of witness on Monday sat Superior Judge Charles W. Fricke, one of California's leading authorities on criminal law. Cool and assured at the counsel table in front of him sat the 35-year-old convict, whose IQ of 172 is the highest ever recorded at San Quentin Prison.

"Do you consider I had a fair trial?" asked Chessman, convicted more than nine years ago as the "Red Light Bandit" who prowled the lovers' lanes of Los Angeles posing as a policeman and robbed and assaulted his victims.

Quizzes Judge All Day
"You got a fair trial," said the judge.

Chessman, who has evaded six separate dates set for his execution, kept the 75-year-old judge on the stand all day as he sought to show Fricke was prejudiced in his conduct of the 1948 trial.

The current hearing was ordered last summer by the U. S. Supreme Court. Its purpose is to settle the transcript of the original trial. Chessman claims the transcript, compiled by another reporter after the trial reporter died with his notes untranscribed, contains mistakes which make it inadequate for review by higher courts.

Amazing Skill
Showing amazing courtroom presence for a man who learned his law from books in the prison library, Chessman produced exhibits, argued cogently and maintained a highly professional manner that was matched by the quiet dignity of the judge.

There was an incense to Fricke's replies, however, and he freely acknowledged as his following remark, produced by Chessman from a tape recording of a 1954 television program: "In my 32 years as a lawyer and judge I have never encountered a case of a convicted criminal less entitled to sympathy and leniency than Caryl Chessman."

VAN ZANDT IS READY FOR CALL

HARRISBURG (AP) — Rep. James E. Van Zandt, (R-Pa.) is willing to run for the U. S. Senate on the Republican ticket but says he doesn't intend to seek the GOP nomination unless asked by party leaders.

"If the Republican leaders think I have what it takes to defeat George Leader, I'm available," Van Zandt told a news conference on Monday. He said he would "love to campaign against" Leader.

But, he added, "I have not conducted a campaign and I don't intend to."

Gov. Leader has been mentioned as the likely Democratic choice for Republican Edward Martin's seat in the Senate.

Van Zandt, who represents Blair Centre and Clearfield Counties, ruled himself out as a candidate for statewide office, including the governorship.

"I've trained in Washington," he said. "I think I could be more useful to Pennsylvania in Washington than I would be in Harrisburg."

U.S. Spends More On Music Than Baseball

DALLAS (AP) — "Good music grosses at the box office 45 million dollars annually to baseball's 40 million," the executive board of the American Symphony Orchestra League was told by Mrs. Helen M. ## MARIA CALLAS IS BARRED FROM ROME OPERA

ROME (AP) — The Rome Opera Co. told soprano Maria Meneghini Callas she cannot sing here again this season because police fear her appearance would disturb public order.

Carlo Latini, superintendent of the theater, issued a statement announcing cancellation of the American-born star's scheduled appearances in the opera "Norma" Wednesday and Saturday nights.

Miss Callas quit last Thursday night in the midst of a glittering opening night performance of "Norma" attended by President Giovanni Gronchi and members of Rome society.

"Lost Her Voice"
She said she lost her voice because of a 102-degree fever. But most of the Rome public appeared to believe her ailment was a fit of temper caused by boos and whistling from the upper galleries during the first act.

Miss Callas asked the opera company to give her another chance to sing before the Rome public to make up for the Thursday night performance. An informant said she was so anxious that she offered to sing free. Her usual fee is $2,000 or more.

In his statement, Latini said the opera company was willing to let Miss Callas sing again but that because of the threat to public order it sought the approval of Rome's prefecture.

He said the prefecture decided she could not sing.

Jack Frost At Work

Ice formations are everywhere after some 300 firemen poured water on this seven-story cold storage building for 15 hours in near zero weather in Chicago. Forty-one fire fighting units, including two fire boats and two towers, fought the fire on northern edge of the Loop across the Chicago River. Two firemen were slightly injured.

CONSIDER NEW ROAD IN YORK

HARRISBURG (AP)—A delegation from the city of York had the word of Highways Secretary Lewis M. Stevens today that the department would consider construction of a northern spur between the Baltimore-Harrisburg expressway and downtown York.

Meantime, Stevens suggested to the group on Monday, the city and county should consider the possibility of developing recreational areas along a section of Codorus River that would lie along such a northern spur.

Stevens indicated that such development might be an incentive to the Highways Department and the federal government to build the spur.

The 12-member delegation, appointed by Mayor Fred Schiding, was headed by Joseph L. Rosenmiller, Henry Leader, a resident of York County and brother and executive aide of Gov. Leader, attended the meeting.

Pvt. Larry Kirk, 21, of Winslow, Ind.

Kirk's body, shot through the back, was found dumped in a road side ditch near this southern Illinois city in December 1956. The Bakers have been held in Marston County jail for about a year. Their trial is set for Jan. 13.

SAY 'KE READY TO BACK STAND FOR MORE MONEY FOR AIR DEFENSE

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower was described by a high government official today as ready to back his request for new missile and air defense funds with a hard-hitting message to Congress.

This official, who has seen advance drafts of the State of the Union address Eisenhower will deliver in person tomorrow, said, "This is not a message of platitudes or complacency." He asked not to be quoted by name.

"The President intends to tackle the major problems headon," he said. "It will be a vigorous message that we believe will have the approval of most members of Congress."

Applauded By Johnson
Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, who heads a senatorial inquiry into the missile and satellite programs applauded Eisenhower's action in asking $1,260,000,000 of additional money to expand and accelerate the nation's defenses.

Johnson said he hopes Eisenhower follows up the move with "a call to arms" in addressing Congress.

Sen. Smathers (D-Fla.), who heads the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee, said that so far as he is concerned there won't be any politics played with the missile program.

Need More Research
Sen. Purtell (R-Conn.) said Eisenhower had demonstrated in the past he was able to meet any crisis that arose, and added, "I expect him to display the same leadership he has displayed in the past."

Eisenhower's scientific adviser, Dr. James R. Killian Jr., said one major need is for a more constant research effort.

He told the Women's National Press Club that he believes "the United States today is technologically strong and growing stronger."

USSR Not Ahead Yet
"I do not believe that we have lost our technological leadership,"

he said, "nor that we are predestined to lose it in the future—provided we increase our technological zest and audacity and do not fail to remedy our weaknesses."

Referring to technological developments, he said that Russia "has not passed us yet, but she has a strong will to do so."

To offset that, Killian said, this country must step up its educational and research efforts. Too much U. S. research, he added, has been "subject to stops and starts and hanging levels of support or short-term financing."

Canisius and Syracuse, upstate New York basketball rivals, have been meeting annually since 1943.
